About fifty weddings have taken place in the Onida Community since their peculiar marriage doctrines were renounced. There are over 900 adults in the establishment.

M. Louis Favre, the engineer-in-chief who built the St. Gotthard tunnel, fell dead in the tunnel on the eve of the completion of the boring. His bust in marble is to be placed over the entrance.

A Lutheran preacher of eminence in Berlin complained in a recent sermon that one-third of the scholars in the higher schools of that capital are Jews, though they form only 5 per cent. of the population.

A Confederate soldier named Moore crawled out under the fire of two armies to give relief to a wounded Union Captain. He recently received information, at his home in Arkansas, that the Captain had bequeathed him $10,000.

There was a sudden blaze in the Mile End Road, London, a fortnight ago. Owing to a collision between a van and a truck, two barrels of paraffin oil were thrown on the road, which is paved with wood at this part, and the contents upset. A street arab who was standing by selling matches immediately seized the opportunity, lighted a fuse and threw it into the oil, which was of course instantly in flames. Several persons narrowly escaped being burnt, and by the time the fire engines could be brought to the place a great portion of the wood pavement was completely burnt through. The urchin who caused the mischief promptly disappeared.

Died in his 113th Year.

A death is announced at Dijon, in northern Spain, of a very old gentleman indeed, who had completed his 112th year only a few days before he quite unexpectedly paid the debt of nature. Unlike Mr. Weller, Sr., this reverend Iberian was by no means the "victim of conubiality," for he successfully withstood the wear and tear of five successive marriages during his long life. His last wedding day was also the eighty-ninth anniversary of his birth, upon which occasion he espoused a comely maiden of "sweet seventeen," whose union with him resulted in the addition of two sturdy boys to his already numerous family of six-and-twenty sons, the fruits of his previous matrimonial alliances.

A Little Heroine.

A seven-year-old girl, left alone with her infant sister, in Cincinnati, was found fatally burned when her mother returned. "Why didn't you call for help?" her mother asked. "Cause I was afraid of waking baby," was the dying child's reply.

THE NEVADA MONTHLY.

To The Public:

THE UNEXPECTED DEMAND FOR COPIES of the Nevada Monthly, the popularity which the book has already obtained, and a desire on the part of the publisher to ADD MANY NEW AND VALUABLE FEATURES TO ITS CONTENTS, has induced him to charge a small price for the magazine. This step has been taken after a thorough canvass of the field and a large subscription list. Many new contributors will be added, and the Monthly will be made correspondingly more interesting and contain more reading matter. Its mining statistics, stock tables, etc., which will always be found reliable, will alone be, for future reference, worth the price of subscription, while its original sketches from the pens of some of Nevada's and California's brightest writers, its interesting and instructive selections, etc., will make it a welcome visitor to the family circle.

The rates of subscription, commencing with the April number, will be: By mail (postage paid) one year $3 50 " " six months " 1 50 Single copies " 25

As an advertising medium, the Nevada Monthly will have no superior, its columns being eagerly read in every camp and mining town in Nevada and adjoining States and Territories. All advertisers will receive from the time their advertisements are inserted a complimentary copy.

Please send subscriptions by postal money order. Write name and address legibly.

Practices in all the courts

The news of Charles deYoung's assassination was a great surprise to the people of the coast, and the particulars of the shooting were read with avidity. No attack of that character was anticipated from either of the Kalliochs. Both were clergymen. So far as has been learned there was little provocation for the murder of deYoung. He shot young Kallioch's father, it is true, but that was months ago, and the father is well again. The Chronicle denies that deYoung had anything to do with the libelous pamphlets against Mayor Kallioch which have been put in circulation. And if had, the elder Kallioch had publicly attacked the character of the deYoungs at every vulnerable point, so that the two were in the same boat so far as libel was concerned. However that may be, the murder of deYoung admits of no justification whatever. It was a cold-blooded, cowardly, brutal assassination.

Charles deYoung was in many respects a remarkable man. He had marvelous enterprise, force, determination, and journalistic ability. Though not a writer, the coast has never furnished his equal as a purveyor of news. Charles deYoung was born in Louisiana in 1845. He came to California, with his widowed mother and the rest of the family, at the age of six. He received some education in the public schools of San Francisco. The family were poor and deYoung entered a printing office as a compositor when still a boy. The Chronicle gives this outline of his business career: "His first newspaper effort was a small paper devoted to the interests of the public schools, which was highly commended by the Board of Education. This paper he sold advantageously, and soon after started the Holiday Advertiser. Giving this up, he started the Dramatic Chronicle, from which small beginning the San Francisco Daily Chronicle sprang, his younger brother, M. H. deYoung, being associated with Charles as publisher and proprietor."

deYoung is dead, and the mantle of charity must be allowed to cover his faults. As the principal proprietor and the director of a widely circulated journal he had great opportunities for good. It cannot be said that he made the best use of his power. His death at the hands of Kallioch's son seems a retribution. It was blood for blood.

"MADEMOISELLE NEVADA."

The Nevada City Transcript knows all about "Mademoiselle Nevada," the singer who is becoming so famous abroad. The lady is a Miss Wixom. She was born at Alpha, El Dorado county, in 1857. Her father kept a hotel there and also practiced medicine. She early showed great taste and capacity for music. While yet a mere child, her parents moved to Nevada, where her mother died. The father sent her to Mills' Seminary. The lady's age is now 23, and she has been studying vocal music for some time abroad. "Mademoiselle Nevada" appears at her Majesty's Opera House in London next month, and is expected to create a furore.

RAILROAD SUGGESTION.

The Truckee Republic makes the following suggestion in regard to tunneling the crown of the Sierra: "A tunnel of from eight to eleven miles would enable the trains to burrow under the storm-belt. There are similar tunnels in Europe which are not half as necessary. The difference in the expense of operating the road would be long repaid by the cost of the investment. Sooner or later the Sierra must be tunneled; then why not agitate the matter while the present blockade renders agitation pertinent?" The Republic also advocates a system of underground wires over the Sierra, as a means of obviating interruptions in telegraphic communication.

SPRING POETRY.

From Byron.
Could I love forever
Rise like a river,
And time's endeavor
Be tried in vain.
No other pleasure
With this could measure,
And like a treasure
We'd hang the chain.
But since our sighing
Ends not in dying,
And formed for flying
Love plumes his wing,
Then, for this reason,
Let's love a season,
But let that season
Be only spring.

THE "CALIFORNIAN".

One of the most determined persons we ever read of is a man named Chadsey, now in jail at Virginia City, Montana. He had a grievance against a Mr. Riches that he resolved to satisfy. He carried out his purpose with a degree of thoroughness which compels admiration, although the act that accomplished it was one for which there is no extenuation. Entering the bed room of Riches at an early hour in the morning, Chadsey pressed the muzzle of a double-barrelled shotgun against the ribs of his sleeping victim and fired, the double charge passing through Riches's heart.

"The penalty of singing 'Pinafore' is death," said a young man in a Richmond parlor, as he playfully pointed a rifle at another who was warbling "Farewell my own light of my life, farewell." The joker was horrified when the rifle went off, shooting his friend in the leg, but perhaps it served the victim right, after all.

Oakland was visited by a violent whirlwind last Thursday. It blew down a house, hurled pieces of scantling through the air, tore up awnings, threw down men, and broke windows. No one was hurt, and the damage done was slight. Its path was confined to the section between Seventh street and the creek.

The Chronicle says that Kearney should be able to pay his fine. It credits the report that W. S. O'Brien gave him $10,000 hush money, that Kearney received $15,000 for keeping White in the field during the last election, also $20,000 during the New Constitution campaign.

The first number of the Mining News, a new weekly paper, edited and published at Ruby Hill by James E. Anderson, late of the Eureka Sentinel, has made its appearance. It looks and reads well, and Anderson has the ability to make the venture a success.

The Oregon State Convention instructed the delegates to the National Convention to vote for Blaine. In a convention of 166 delegates there was only one dissenting voice to the resolutions of instruction.

The most intelligent monkey is in Galt, Ontario. The creature suffered from an aching tooth, and without a human example for imitation, tied a string to the offending molar and pulled it out.

The Congressional Committee on Mines and Mining will report adversely on the section of the mining bill providing for a change from lode locations to square locations.

Young Kallioch, when taken to prison Friday night, stroked the Warden's cat and said "Poor Pussy." What a tender-hearted preacher he must be.

The California game law prohibits dove and rail shooting between January 1, and July 1. It also prohibits the trapping of quail.

The funeral of Charles deYoung took place in San Francisco yesterday at 1 o'clock.

Stop That Cough.
With a sample bottle of Kaiser's German Balm. This is the most wonderful cough remedy ever introduced, being mild, yet powerful in its action and soothing under all circumstances. Old and young may use it with perfect security. It is rich in the medicinal properties of tar, wild cherry and horsebalm. Ask your druggist, Messrs. Osburn & Shaw, about its merits. They will give quantities of it and say it surpasses all others. The genuine bears the President coat of arms and the facsimile signature of Dr. Wilhelm's "W" on the wrapper and has his name blown in every 75-cent bottle. Samples 10-cent. Large size 25 cents.

The Jacksonville Times suggests that the thousands of carcasses of dead animals that perished in the late severe winter and bestrew the ground in Lake Jackson and Siskiyou counties be cremated.

Two little sons of James Burke of the H. B. M. Colony, San Mateo county, killed a large wild cat on Sunday, April 11th. Their weapons were sticks, and their aid in the fight their faithful dog. The boys are aged five and nine respectively, and the cat weighed sixteen pounds.

Bogus dollars are in circulation, and have found their way into Stockton. This coin has a neat appearance, and produces a ring similar to that of the new American dollar. The only difference in the two is in the weight, the bogus dollar weighing thirty cents less than the other.

John Rodda of Grass Valley, about a year ago, procured fifty-six carp and placed them in a pond in his garden. A few days ago the water was drawn off to ascertain the success of the experiment, when it was found that the original "plant" had grown greatly, and that the progeny therefrom numbered thousands.

The bonanza silver ledge of Shasta county has been discovered at last, says the Courier. A ledge of quartz from seventy-five to ninety feet in width, and traceable for a distance of six miles, was discovered a few days ago by some of Potter's men while out prospecting on Iron mountain. Assays from the ore give returns of from $100 to $400 per ton.
